CHAPTER 1 - INTRODUCTION

A. Purpose of this Audit Guide

The purpose of this audit guide is to assist independent public accountants (IPAs) in performing financial audits of Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) programs. These audits must be performed in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS), Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the requirements of this audit guide. The objectives of a DECD program audit are to assist DECD program managers in determining whether: (1) the auditee has provided financial data and reports to the Department of Economic and Community Development that can be relied upon; (2) the auditee has internal control structure policies and procedures in place to provide reasonable assurance that it is managing DECD programs in compliance with applicable laws and regulations; and (3) the auditee has complied with applicable laws, regulations, policies, procedures, and terms and conditions of the Assistance/Loan Agreement, and thus expended state funds properly and with supporting documentation.

DECD program specific audit reports are a primary tool used by DECD program managers to meet their stewardship responsibilities in overseeing these DECD programs and assuring the integrity of the funds. Program managers must act upon the areas of noncompliance and internal control weaknesses noted in these reports. To be of value, these reports must contain adequate information to give reported matters perspective and to allow the managers to take necessary corrective action.

DECD Audit Guide Applicability - Use of some or this entire guide is mandatory for all participants in the DECD programs. Exceptions are noted below. The distinction between whether all or parts of this guide should be followed depends on the different circumstances involved.

Program Specific Audits

Use of this audit guide is mandatory for audits required by State Statute, Regulation or Contract of auditees administering DECD programs when the auditee is not subject to a Federal and/or State Single Audit. This guide must be followed for all program specific audits of DECD grant/loan contracts and all audits of DECD State Housing Administration Funds.

Federal and/or State Single Audits

If an auditee is audited under a Federal and/or State Single Audit, the only additional requirements of DECD are that the DECD programs be tested for compliance with laws and regulations using the DECD Compliance Supplement contained in Appendix A of this guide and that the financial statement format outlined in Exhibit 4-2 be followed. A cumulative statement of program cost must be presented for all DECD grant/loan contracts as either a financial statement, supplemental schedule or as a note to the financial statement. The inclusion of this statement will facilitate the financial closeout of the program. For any program not covered in the compliance supplement, the IPA may ascertain compliance requirements by researching the statutes, regulations, and agreements governing the particular program.

Exceptions to using the DECD Audit Guide

Exceptions include those participants who are authorized to follow HUD Handbook 2000.4 REV-2, Consolidated Audit Guide for Audits of HUD Programs. In addition, in lieu of using the DECD audit guide, an auditor on certain DECD grant/loan contracts may perform Agreed-upon procedures in lieu of an audit in accordance with this audit guide. Agreed-upon procedure requests must be made in writing to the DECD Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section. Agreed-upon procedures normally include procedures such as, examining a predetermined percentage of costs from certain cost categories and examining the supporting documentation to ensure that costs were in conformance with the contract/budget and physically inspecting evidence to determine that items and services contracted for were used on the project. Also, ascertaining that expenditures were made only for obligations permitted by the budget, incurred after the effective date of the budget but before the termination of the contract, and limited to those allowable deviations permitted without special authorization.

This guide is not intended to be a complete manual of procedures, nor is it intended to supplant the IPA's judgement of audit work required. Audit procedures contained herein may not cover all circumstances or conditions encountered in a particular audit. The IPA should use professional judgment to tailor the procedures so that the audit objectives may be achieved. However, the IPA must address all applicable compliance requirements contained in this guide. If the IPA desires technical assistance pertaining to DECD programs and their regulations and or operations, the IPA should contact the appropriate division or appropriate regional manager of the Department of Economic and Community Development.

For the purpose of this guide, an "auditee" means a local housing authority, municipality, limited equity cooperative, nonprofit corporation, private developer, company, regional development agency, economic development commission and any other entity that has contracted to receive State assistance in the form of a grant or loan with DECD to carry out a specific project or service.

CHAPTER 2 - DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT (DECD) ASSISTED PROGRAMS BACKGROUND

A. DECD Mission and Goals

The Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) was created by the Connecticut General Assembly by merging the Department of Housing and the Department of Economic Development into a single agency. The mission of DECD is to make Connecticut an unparalleled place to live, work, learn, and play by providing quality technical and financial assistance in the areas of housing, economic development and tourism to businesses, local government, and community organizations. DECD as the lead agency for all housing and economic development related matters in the state is responsible for establishing statewide housing policy and providing direction to the state concerning these issues.

DECD offers programs to improve the business environment in Connecticut, to promote job creation, and to develop and revitalize housing, neighborhoods and communities. Community development teams manage projects and coordinate programs to assist companies, developers, and municipalities with business development assistance, housing assistance, and community programs.

B. Administration of DECD Assisted Programs

The Department of Economic and Community Development has direct responsibility for administering the state assisted housing and economic development programs. The DECD, acting through the Commissioner of Economic and Community Development, executes Assistance Agreements and contracts with auditees to provide state financial assistance in the form of grants and/or loans to assist such entities in the development and operation of a particular DECD program. As stipulated in the Connecticut General Statutes and reflected in the Assistance Agreement or Contract, the DECD may finance either in whole or in part the various types of authorized activities. The State funding requirements are based on the type of activity being financed and the source of funds. Certain activities are funded by federal, state, and local sources (e.g., municipalities) with a specified percentage rate or amount of funding for each agency. Certain other activities are funded by state and local sources with a specified percentage rate or amounts of funding for each agency and other programs are funded in full by the DECD. Refer to the Assistance Agreement and Budget to determine the specified amount of local or matching funds required.

Once the initial development of a housing or economic development project financed in whole or in part with DECD funds is completed and the project is available for occupancy, the DECD provides for an audit of the program or authorizes use of an Independent Public Accountant (IPA) to perform such an audit. After the audit is completed, DECD issues a Certificate of Approved Program Cost and State Funding or a similar document to closeout the funding provisions of a contract.

In addition, certain auditees, (particularly entities administering housing projects) are required to prepare and submit a Management Plan (Budget) for the annual operations of the projects to the DECD for acceptance and approval by the Commissioner. The auditee is then responsible to the Commissioner of Economic and Community Development for the overall administration of the program and any contracts (grants/loans).

C. Types of DECD Programs

State financial assistance is provided by the DECD to auditees for the development and operation of housing for low and moderate income families under a variety of programs and for the promotion of economic vitality through financial and technical assistance to businesses. More information may be found in the Connecticut General Statutes and the Department of Economic and Community Development regulations, if applicable, covering each program. A brief description of some DECD programs follows:

Housing Programs:

1. Affordable Housing Program - grants to local housing authorities and nonprofit corporations to construct or rehabilitate rental-housing units for households with very low incomes. A tenant pays an established base rent or 30 percent of the tenant's adjusted monthly income, whichever is greater.
2. Congregate Housing for the Elderly Program - grants and loans to local housing authorities and nonprofit corporations to construct or rehabilitate congregate housing for the frail elderly who are at least 62 years old and with limited incomes. There are no asset limits for occupancy and tenants pay an established rent or 30 percent of the tenant's adjusted monthly income, whichever is greater.
3. Federal Section 8 Housing Assistance Payment Program - this federal funded program administered by the Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development, provides rental subsidies to landlords (private owners and developers, nonprofit corporations, local housing authorities, and state housing finance agencies) for families with very low income (at or below 50 percent of the area median) for the difference between the amounts the families can afford to pay (30 percent of their incomes) and the fair market rents established or approved by HUD charged by the landlords. The subsidies may be used in existing or newly constructed units, or in new construction or substantially rehabilitated units.
4. Housing for Elderly Persons Program - grants and loans to local housing authorities, partnerships, municipalities, and nonprofit corporations to construct or rehabilitate housing for the elderly who are at least 62 years old or certified as disabled and with limited incomes. There are no asset limits. A tenant pays an established base rent or a rent based on a percentage of the tenant's adjusted monthly income, whichever is greater.
5. Moderate Rental Housing Program - grants and loans to acquire, construct or rehabilitate rental housing for households with low and moderate incomes.
6. Federal HOME Investment Partnership Program - provides grants, loans, deferred loans to housing authorities, nonprofit developers, for profit developers and individuals for a variety of activities to develop and support affordable housing including: tenant-based assistance, assistance to rental housing units, assistance to first-time homebuyers and existing homeowners, for acquisition, new construction, moderate or substantial rehabilitation and site improvements.
7. Housing Rehabilitation Program - grants and loans to local housing authorities to upgrade and modernize state-financed moderate rental and elderly housing units to a safe and sanitary condition. Eligible activities include modernization or replacement of heating systems, electrical service, and installation of new roofs, siding, and insulation.
8. Resident Services Coordinator – provides grant funds to owners/developers of State financed Elderly Housing to hire staff to perform an evaluation of all tenants. The evaluation process is used to determine the level of need of each tenant and to help coordinate those services available within the community.
9. Limited Equity Cooperative Program - grants, loans, or grant/loan combinations to nonprofit corporations to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate housing for the development of cooperatives for families with low and moderate incomes. Residents must contribute money, labor, or both to join a cooperative.

10. Housing and Community Development Program - grants to housing site development agencies and to nonprofit corporations, for as much as 67 percent of the cost of site acquisition, site improvements, relocation, and demolition, to develop housing for families with low and moderate incomes. Also, matching grants to municipalities to supply loans or grants to homeowners with low or moderate incomes to rehabilitate targeted residential areas.
11. Rental Assistance Program - rental subsidies in the form of grants to nonprofit organizations and housing authorities to assist elderly persons that are paying in excess of 30 percent their income toward rent and utilities.
12. Land Bank and Land Trust Program - grants to nonprofits to acquire property to develop and preserve affordable housing. The nonprofit sells or rents the units to low and moderate-income households, and leases the land, enabling certain resale restrictions that guarantee long-term affordability for qualifying households.
13. Federal Small Cities Community Development Program - federally funded program provides grants annually, on a competitive basis, to eligible municipalities for economic development, affordable housing, community facilities and services and revitalization or development projects. Single-purpose discretionary grants are available for the last resort funding that address unique, unanticipated threats to public health and safety.
14. Hazardous Materials Abatement Program - grants and loans for hazardous materials abatement are available to homeowners for lead-based paint abatement and asbestos removal.
15. Housing Administration Fund Program - after the development of a housing project funded in whole or part by the DECD, the project is occupied by residents who pay rent or carrying charges. A housing project in this occupancy or management phase is referred to as the Housing Administration Fund. Housing projects in the Administration Fund are required to operate the project in accordance with the DECD approved Management Plan and follow the rules and regulations established by DECD with regards to the management and operation of the project.

Economic Development Programs:

1. Historic Assets - this program contributes to the state's overall historic preservation plan. It encourages quality tourism by supporting the acquisition, installation, interpretation, or renovation of historical assets in the state.
2. Manufacturing Assistance Act - The most comprehensive of the Department's financing programs, this act allows for the provision of financing for the projects that include planning, acquisition of real property, the purchase of machinery and equipment, construction and/or infrastructure improvements, substantial renovation, improvement or expansion of a facility, and offset the costs related to relocation.
3. Special Act Grants - the objectives of the special act grants program is to provide specific, targeted economic development assistance to municipalities, as decided annually through the special act appropriation of the General Assembly.
4. Technical Assistance - this program provides funding to municipalities and nonprofit organizations for technical assistance and planning for economic development.
5. Urban Action Bonds - the objectives of this program are to redirect, improve, and expand state activities that promote community conservation and development and improve the quality of life for urban residents of the state.

6. Business Expansion - Municipalities with High Unemployment, Small Business Innovative Research - this program promotes business expansion to create new job opportunities in municipalities with high unemployment and fund research projects that enhance small business development.
7. Regional Economic Development Projects - this program supports projects in thirteen self-determined economic regions that have developed long-term strategic economic plans. Grants are provided for projects that will promote economic diversification, stability and growth.

CHAPTER 3 - PLANNING AND CONDUCTING THE AUDIT

A. Audit Standards and Objectives

The objective of the financial audit is to obtain the IPA's opinion on the fairness of presentation of the auditee's financial statements. The audit must be conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS), Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States (Yellow Book), and the requirements of the State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development as contained in this audit guide.

In conducting the financial audit, it is required that the IPA determines whether:

1. The auditee's financial statements present fairly the financial position and results of operations in accordance with the basis of accounting principles prescribed or permitted by the DECD.
2. The auditee has established internal control structure policies and procedures including those policies and procedures established to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations that have a direct and material effect on the financial statements.
3. The auditee has complied with applicable laws, regulations, policies, and procedures that have a direct and material effect on the financial statements.

B. Qualifications and Independence of Independent Public Accountants

1. Qualifications

An IPA must meet the auditor qualifications of Government Auditing Standards, including the qualification relating to independence and continuing professional education. Additionally, the audit organization is to meet the quality control standard of Government Auditing Standards.

The standards on auditor qualifications in Government Auditing Standards require that accountants and accounting firms comply with the applicable provisions of the public accountancy laws and rules of the jurisdiction in which they are licensed and where the audit is being conducted. If the IPA's office is located outside of Connecticut, the IPA must meet the licensing requirements to practice public accountancy in the State of Connecticut by obtaining both a license and a permit through the Connecticut Board of Accountancy to perform audit-related services in Connecticut. (The Connecticut State Board of Accountancy web site is located at <http://www.ct.gov/sboa>.)

2. Independence

In all matters relating to the audit work, the audit organization and the individual IPA should be free from personal and external impairments to independence, should be organizationally independent, and should maintain an independent attitude and appearance. An IPA will not be considered independent with respect to any auditee with which such IPA has, or has during the period covered by the audit, any interest direct or indirect such as family relationship with auditee members or officials, connection as an officer or employee (whether or not paid) of the auditee, and financial interest, either direct or indirect, in any auditee activity (other than in the performance of the audit). The use of IPAs performing both accounting and auditing services will be prohibited unless prior approval is obtained from the DECD.

C. Accounting Records

In accordance with the Assistance/Loan Agreement or Contract, auditees shall maintain adequate accounting records and will, at such times as the Commissioner of Economic and Community Development may request, furnish the Commissioner with periodic financial statements and reports pertaining to the fund or program.

The auditee shall establish an adequate accounting system to ensure adequate internal control and compliance with the terms and conditions of the Assistance/Loan Agreement or Contract, state statutes, regulations, and policies of the DECD.

The auditee shall maintain, at a minimum, the following accounting records:

1. General Ledger
2. Cash Receipts Journal
3. Cash Disbursements Journal
4. Payroll Register and quarterly state and federal tax returns
5. Source documents supporting all accounting transactions
6. Bank statements and canceled checks
7. General journal vouchers or entries
8. Payment vouchers
9. Tenants' Accounts Receivable Subsidiary Ledger
10. Furniture and Equipment Ledger
11. Insurance Register
12. Employee records (attendance records, forms W-2, W-4, etc.)

When required by the terms of the Assistance/Loan Agreement or contract, the auditee must establish and maintain a separate bank account for each fund or program. All state and local program funds and all income, including interest earned on program funds, must be promptly deposited in the bank account. The bank accounts may be governed by a Bank Fund Agreement, which grants the Commissioner of DECD the right to restrict or withdraw funds under certain conditions of noncompliance with the terms of the Assistance/Loan Agreement or Contract.

D. Audit Scope and Approach

The IPA shall prepare a letter of engagement and/or an audit contract between the auditee and the IPA to document the planning and scope of the audit. The letter and/or audit contract should state that the audit is to be performed in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards, and the requirements of this Audit Guide. It should specify that the scope of the audit and the contents of the audit report meet the requirements of this Audit Guide. It should also specify that the IPA be required to provide the DECD access to working papers or other documents to review the audit. Access to working papers by DECD representatives includes making necessary photocopies.

The audit must be sufficiently comprehensive in scope to permit the expression of an opinion on the financial statements and supplementary information and/or schedules in the report. The opinion should state whether the basic financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the auditee as of the date of the financial statements and the results of its operations for the period then ended in conformity with the basis of accounting principles prescribed or permitted by DECD. Additionally, the opinion should state that the supplementary information and/or schedules have been subjected to the audit procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

For the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements, the IPA shall obtain and evaluate evidence about management assertions that are embodied in those financial statements. To be able to express an opinion, the IPA must establish specific audit objectives related to those assertions and then design and perform audit tests to obtain evidence that can be evaluated to determine whether the objectives have been met. Throughout the process, the IPA must make decisions about whether the evidence obtained is sufficient, both qualitatively and quantitatively, to provide the necessary level of assurance for expressing an opinion. Therefore, the IPA should use professional judgment to determine the extent of testing to support his/her opinion.

Consideration of Internal Controls and Compliance

Government Auditing Standards requires the IPA to consider the internal control structure of the auditee as part of planning and performing the audit and to report on the internal control structure. Government Auditing Standards require the IPA to obtain a sufficient understanding of the internal control structure and to assess control risk for the assertions embodied in the financial statements. Overall guidance for the consideration of internal controls, testing and reporting requirements for State programs is provided in the Government Auditing Standards. The Government Auditing Standards require that a sufficient understanding of internal controls be obtained to plan the audit and to determine the nature, timing and extent of tests to be performed. In fulfilling the audit requirement relating to an understanding of internal controls and assessing the level of control risk, the auditor should follow, at a minimum, the guidance contained in AICPA SAS No. 55, Consideration of the Internal Control Structure in a Financial Statement Audit and SAS No. 78, Consideration of Internal Control in a Financial Statement Audit: An Amendment to SAS No. 55. In addition, when auditing DECD programs, the IPA should perform tests of controls to evaluate the effectiveness of the design and operation of internal controls in preventing or detecting material noncompliance with the requirements of the DECD programs. The IPA should perform these procedures regardless of whether the IPA assesses the internal control risk below the maximum. The steps performed and conclusions reached should be clearly evidenced in the auditor's working papers. The working papers should clearly demonstrate the IPA's understanding and assessment of control risk related to internal controls established for DECD activities. Tests may be omitted only in areas when internal controls are likely to be ineffective in preventing or detecting noncompliance, in which case a reportable condition or material weakness should be reported. DECD and Government Auditing Standards also require the IPA to test and report on the auditee's compliance with laws and regulations. The IPA should perform procedures to provide reasonable assurance that the auditee has complied with laws and regulations having a material effect on the financial statements and on each DECD program. The objectives of tests of compliance with laws and regulations are to determine whether the auditee has administered its DECD programs in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, thereby providing a basis for reporting, and to determine whether there have been instances of noncompliance that individually or in aggregate may have a material effect on the financial statements. Accordingly, tests of compliance with laws and regulations are substantive tests usually accomplished by examining supporting documentation. In determining the extent of substantive tests of compliance with laws and regulations that are required, the IPA may choose to rely on the internal control structure designed to ensure compliance with laws and regulations in order to restrict the extent of substantive testing. The IPA is also required to issue a report on compliance with laws and regulations (See Chapter 4). In order to fulfill the audit requirement of testing and reporting on compliance with laws and regulations, the IPA should follow, at a minimum, the guidance contained in the AICPA Statement on Auditing Standards and Government Auditing Standards.

The tests of compliance must include the selection and testing of a representative number of transactions from each DECD assisted program and Administration Fund. The selection and testing of transactions shall be based on the IPA's professional judgment considering such factors as the amount of expenses/expenditures for the program; the newness of the program or changes in its conditions; prior experience with the program, particularly as revealed in audits and other evaluation (e.g., inspections, program reviews); the extent to which the program is carried out through subrecipients; the extent to which the program contracts for goods or services; the level to which the program is already subject to program reviews or other forms of independent oversight; the adequacy of the internal control structure established to ensure compliance with laws and regulations; the expectation of adherence or lack of adherence to the applicable laws and regulations; and the potential impact of adverse findings.

In performing the tests of transactions, the IPA shall determine whether:

- The expenses or expenditures incurred by the auditee are allowable under the provisions of the applicable statutes, regulations, rules, and policies governing the program(s);
- The expenses or expenditures incurred, by category and in total, are within the approved Management Plan/Program Financing Plan and Budget;
- The nature of the expenses or expenditures was provided for in the approved Management Plan/Program Financing Plan and Budget;
- The expenses or expenditures charged to the program(s) appear necessary and reasonable for proper and efficient performance and administration of State programs;
- Local matching was provided; and
- The expenses are adequately documented.

The IPA should test each of the compliance requirements applicable to each DECD program being audited as contained in the Compliance Supplement for Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) Programs (Appendix A). For any program not covered in the compliance supplement, the IPA may ascertain compliance requirements by researching the statutes, regulations, and agreements governing the particular program. If the IPA decides not to perform detailed testing of a particular compliance requirement, the reasons must be appropriately explained and documented in the working papers. The IPA must also report all material instances of noncompliance and reportable conditions, including material weaknesses, in the internal control structure as findings, even in those cases where corrective action was taken by the auditee after the audit period.

The schedule of findings and questioned costs (Chapter 4, Example C) must include the following information for each finding where applicable: (a) the number of items and the dollar value of the population; (b) the number of items and the dollar value of the selected sample; and (c) the number of items and the dollar value of instances of the noncompliance.

In addition, the IPA must include in the audit report comments on the status of corrective actions taken on prior audit findings (Chapter 4, Example D). Management's corrective action plan for current audit findings must be included in or submitted with the report to DECD.

Finally, the IPA is required to obtain written representations from management that include matters concerning compliance with laws and regulations that have a material effect on the financial statements and each DECD program as prescribed by SAS No. 74.

Criteria for Questioning Costs

Costs questioned normally fall under the following categories:

- (1) Costs which are specifically ineligible under the general and specific grant/loan conditions or instructions of the DECD. These may include pre or post grant/loan costs, per diem cost in excess of maximum limits, or other expenditures in excess of authorized or limited amounts.
- (2) Costs, which were not supported by adequate documentation. These may include lack of time and attendance records, personnel records, original invoices, etc.; and the IPA could not satisfy himself by any other evidential means that the costs were proper charges to the DECD program.
- (3) Costs, which were not in the approved budget. Those may include renovation costs, field trips, items of equipment, or staffing patterns which were either not contemplated in the proposed budget submitted or were specifically disapproved by DECD.
- (4) Costs, which were unreasonable. These costs may include costs that are not specifically ineligible or unsupported, but which are taken under the circumstances and conditions that existed at the time the decision to incur the cost was made. It may also include unreasonable valuation assigned to In-Kind or matching contributions. For example, unreasonable costs would be the purchase of a six-month supply of materials during the last month of the grant, the rental of luxurious automobiles rather than lower priced models, or the inequitable allocation of overhead costs to the program.

E. Timing of Audit

The audit of a grant/loan program is to be arranged and conducted within ninety (90) days after completion of the project unless otherwise required by the Commissioner. In the case of an auditee subject to an audit in accordance with the Federal and/or State Single Audit Act, the contract between the auditee and the IPA shall require that the audit be conducted and submitted within the time frame allowed by federal and state law, whichever is stricter. Audits conducted on ongoing Housing Administration Funds must be completed and submitted to DECD no later than six months after the end of the period under audit.

F. Reference Materials

Prior to starting the audit of the auditee, it is suggested that the IPA request the auditee to have the reference materials and documents listed below available.

It is not necessary for the IPA to have an extensive knowledge of the contents of all DECD handbooks, manuals, and/or regulations because much of the material is not germane to the audit. However, it will be necessary for the IPA to become at least generally familiar with the following materials in order to satisfy the objectives of the audit.

1. Assistance Agreements and/or contracts between the auditee and DECD.
2. Declaration, By-laws, Policies adopted by the auditee's governing body, e.g., Personnel, Procurement, Disposition of Property, Rent Collection, etc.
3. Cooperation Agreements between the auditee and the local governing body (usually the municipality).
4. Management Plan (Administration Funds), Project Financing Plan and Budget (Development Funds), and/or Program Financing Plan and Budget (Contracts).
5. The following Department of Economic and Community Development publications:
 - a. Accounting Manual for Local Housing Authorities
 - b. Accounting Manual for DECD Financial Assistance Contracts
 - c. Accounting Manual for the Rental Assistance Payments Program
 - d. Housing Manual for the Management of State Financed Housing
 - e. Accounting Manual for Limited Equity Cooperatives
6. The names of the members of the Board of Commissioners/ Directors and management officials (e.g., Executive Director).
7. Contracts or agreements between the auditee and others (e.g., Architects, Contractors, etc.).
8. Department of Economic and Community Development and/or Independent Public Accountants audit reports covering periods prior to the current audit and any other program review reports of the Department of Economic and Community Development program staff.

The various DECD publications are also available to the IPA at the Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section of the DECD.

G. Audit delays Due to Condition of Accounting Records

If the IPA determines that the auditee's records are not in a satisfactory condition for performing the audit, the audit should be discontinued unless the auditee is able to get the records in condition for audit within a short period of time (one or two weeks). If an audit is to be delayed more than two weeks because the auditee cannot get the records ready for audit, the IPA should inform the Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section of the DECD and wait for further instructions before continuing the audit. If the IPA encounters poor accounting records, which are auditable but nonetheless will result in a disclaimer of opinion on the auditee's financial statements, the IPA should consult with DECD before continuing the audit. The IPA should submit a corrective action plan to DECD detailing what problems were encountered and what corrective measures must be taken by the auditee to resolve the problems before the audit can resume. In most cases it will be preferable for the IPA to suspend the audit until the records are brought into compliance with DECD requirements, thus enabling the IPA to render an opinion.

H. Errors, Irregularities, and Illegal Acts or Fraud

The IPA should specifically assess the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements due to fraud and should consider that assessment in designing the audit procedures to be performed. In making this assessment, the IPA should consider fraud risk factors contained in AICPA SAS No. 99, Consideration of Fraud in a Financial Statement Audit.

Normally, an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards does not include audit procedures specifically designed to detect illegal acts or irregularities. However, procedures applied for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements may bring possible illegal acts to the IPA's attention.

If the IPA becomes aware of illegal or fraudulent acts that have occurred or are likely to have occurred, the IPA should promptly prepare a separate written report and include all questioned costs. The IPA should submit this report in accordance with the requirements of the Government Auditing Standards to the Commissioner of DECD.

I. Exit Conference

Upon completion of the fieldwork, the IPA should hold a closing or exit conference with senior officials of the auditee. Any audit findings and recommendations, either of a financial, compliance, or internal control nature, should be fully discussed.

The exit conference gives the IPA an opportunity to obtain management's comments on the accuracy and completeness of the facts he or she presents and the conclusions he or she has reached. This conference also provides advance information to the auditee so that it may initiate corrective action without waiting for a final audit report. Whenever possible, the concurrence or the reasons for non-concurrence by the auditee should be obtained and incorporated in the audit report. Information on any corrective measures taken or promised to be taken by the auditee should also be included in the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs under a caption such as "Management's Response".

J. Corrective Action Plan

To assist the DECD in resolving instances of noncompliance and reportable conditions including material weaknesses in the internal control structure identified by the IPA, the auditee is required to submit a corrective action plan as part of its audit report on DECD programs. In the corrective action plan, which should be on the auditee's letterhead, the auditee must describe the corrective actions taken or planned in response to findings identified by the IPA. In addition, the auditee must comment on the status of corrective actions taken on prior findings. The submission of the corrective action plan is considered a necessary part of the auditee audit requirement and should be submitted to DECD together with the IPA's reports and audited financial statements. DECD required audit reports submitted without a corrective action plan shall be considered incomplete. The IPA should submit as many copies of the corrective action plan as copies submitted of the audit report. Additional guidance concerning the corrective action plan is contained in Chapter 4, Example D of this guide.

K. Distribution of Audit Reports

Upon completion of the audit, the IPA shall forward sufficient copies of the audit report to the auditee as indicated in the audit contract. Three (3) copies of all audit reports must be submitted to the Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section of the DECD. Management letters and Adjusting Journal Entries rendered by the IPA, if issued, must accompany the audit reports submitted to DECD.

For audits of Housing Authorities, a copy of the audit report must be sent to the Connecticut Housing Finance Authority (CHFA), Town Clerk and appointing authority of the municipality in which the Housing Authority is located.

Audits of all DECD grant/loan contracts must be performed within ninety (90) days of the completion of the Project. Audits of Housing Administration Funds must be submitted no later than six months of the end of the audit period. In addition, if the audit was performed under the Federal and/or State Single Audit Acts, copies of the audit report must be submitted to the appropriate federal and state agencies within the time frames imposed by federal and state law.

L. Quality Control Review for Audit Reports

All audits performed by IPAs on auditees are subject to review by the DECD.

The DECD uses standard guidelines in reviewing audit work performed by IPAs. The review of IPA's work consists of two phases: desk reviews of audit reports and reviews of audit working papers. As part of this evaluation of completed audits, the audit working papers shall be made available upon request to the DECD at the completion of the audit and for a period of three years from the date of the audit report.

In general, the desk reviews of audit reports prepared by IPAs are intended to assure compliance with reporting requirements set forth by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, OMB Circular A-133 as applicable, the State Single Audit Act, and this audit guide, as required. Particular attention is paid to the IPA's comments contained in the reports on the internal control structure and on compliance with laws and regulations and on the IPA's opinion on the financial statements. Upon completion of the desk review, a determination will be made as to the audit report's acceptability.

If the audit report is received in a format not in compliance with this audit guide, the DECD may refuse to accept such report and require that the audit report be resubmitted within such time limits as the DECD may require. If the rejected report is not resubmitted within the time frame designated by the DECD, the report may be referred to appropriate professional bodies for disciplinary review. No cost may be charged to DECD programs for audits that are not performed in accordance with this audit guide, the Federal Single Audit Act, or the State Single Audit Act, as required.

In conducting reviews of an IPA's working papers, the DECD's objectives are not to criticize the IPA's work but rather to ensure adherence to the DECD Audit Guide and single audit requirements as required. A letter detailing the review results will be issued to the IPA.

Whenever an evaluation of an audit report or working papers discloses inadequacies, the IPA may be asked to take corrective action. If the DECD determines that the audit report and working papers are substandard or contain major inadequacies, it will consider filing complaints with the Connecticut State Board of Accountancy.

Failure to correct deficiencies noted during a desk review or working paper review will result in notification to the Connecticut State Board of Accountancy. This is for information only and does not constitute a referral for disciplinary action. Such notification to the Connecticut State Board of Accountancy is concurrent with notification to the IPA.

M. Retention of Audit Working Papers and Reports

Audit working papers and reports shall be retained for a minimum of three years from the date of the audit report, unless the IPA is notified in writing by the DECD to extend the retention period. When IPA's are aware that DECD or the auditee is contesting an audit finding, the IPA shall contact the parties contesting the audit finding for guidance prior to destruction of the working papers and report.

N. Audit Costs

The cost of an audit made in accordance with the provisions of this audit guide is an allowable charge for each DECD program audited unless otherwise prohibited by program requirement.

The allocation of audit cost allowed to be charged to a DECD program shall be decided by the auditee with the approval of the DECD division administering the program. In general, the amount of audit cost allowable to a DECD program shall not exceed the amount approved for audit cost as stated in the Management Plan and/or Program Financing Plan and Budget. In addition, the charges in connection with the State and Federal Single Audit portion of the audit shall only be eligible to the project to the extent that the ratio of the cost charged to the project shall not exceed the ratios outlined in the State and Federal Single Audit Acts.

O. Inquiries Relating to this Audit Guide

Any inquiries or comments pertaining to this audit guide and/or audits of an auditee's books and accounts shall be directed to the Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section of the Department of Economic and Community Development at (860) 270-8210, (860) 270-8209, or (860) 270-8202. Additional copies of this audit guide can be obtained from the DECD web site at <http://www.ct.gov/ecd> under Publications/Miscellaneous Publications.

P. Guidance on Procurement of Audit Services

A Guide for Procurement of Audit Services from an Independent Public Accountant along with a Sample Request for Audit Proposal Notification and a Sample Audit Agreement can be obtained by contacting the Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section of the Department of Economic and Community Development at (860) 270-8210, (860) 270-8209, or (860) 270-8202 or by visiting the DECD web site at <http://www.ct.gov/ecd>.

CHAPTER 4 - REPORTING REQUIREMENTS AND SAMPLE REPORTS

A. Auditor's Reports

Government Auditing Standards requires that the IPA issue the following reports based on the audit of the financial statements: a report on the financial statements, a report on the internal controls, and a report on compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The audit report should be issued to the auditee's governing body and/or top official as appropriate and should clearly indicate the programs and periods that were audited. In addition, the auditee should transmit three (3) copies of the audit report and its corrective action plan to the DECD Compliance, Audit and Financial Review Section.

It is expected that the specific compliance requirements identified in this guide will cover those laws and regulations that, if not complied with, could have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. As such, the compliance report as illustrated in this guide is the only report necessary for reporting on the auditee's compliance with laws and regulations.

To meet the requirements of this audit guide, the IPA must submit the following reports:

1. The auditor's report on the financial statements and any required supplementary schedules, according to the particular program requirements. The report should state whether the information contained in those schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and whether that information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.
2. The auditor's report on the internal controls as they relate to both financial reporting and administering the DECD programs and the assessment of control risk made as part of the audit of the basic financial statements. The report must identify any reportable conditions and material weaknesses noted. Reportable conditions and material weaknesses in the internal control structure should be presented in the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. In addition, nonreportable conditions may be included in this report or separately communicated in a letter to management. Such conditions when communicated in a separate letter to management should be referred to in the report on the internal controls. A copy of the Management letter shall be included with the report sent to DECD. The IPA should also include comments on the status of prior internal control structure findings noted in the prior IPA or DECD audit report. The internal control report may be issued separately or combined with the report on compliance. (See Chapter 4, Example B for a sample of a combined report.)
3. The auditor's report on compliance with applicable laws and regulations that may have a direct and material effect on the financial statements and on each DECD program. The report should identify and include all material instances of noncompliance. The findings should include an identification of all questioned costs as a result of noncompliance. In addition, the findings should contain adequate information necessary to facilitate the audit resolution process (i.e. size of the universe and corresponding dollar amount, size and dollar amount of the sample, and number and corresponding dollar amount of the instances of noncompliance). Findings should be presented in the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs (Example C). Nonmaterial instances of noncompliance may be disclosed in the report on compliance or separately communicated in a letter to management. Such instances of noncompliance when communicated in a separate letter to management should be referred to in the report on compliance. A copy of the Management letter shall be included with the report sent to DECD. The IPA should also include comments on the status of prior compliance findings noted in the prior IPA or DECD audit reports, or DECD management reviews.

4. Any illegal acts or indications of such acts that could result in criminal prosecution including all questioned costs found as a result of these acts that the IPA become aware of should be covered in a separate written report in accordance with the provisions of Government Auditing Standards. This report should be sent to the Department of Economic and Community Development. Illegal acts are to be reported on without regard to whether the condition giving rise to the questioned costs has been corrected or whether the auditee does or does not agree with the findings and questioned costs.
5. A corrective action plan developed by the auditee, wherein the auditee officials describe the corrective actions taken or planned in response to the findings identified by the IPA. The plan should also include comments on the corrective actions taken on prior findings resulting from IPA or DECD audits and DECD program reviews (Example D).

To meet the requirements of this audit guide, the IPA must include a statement in the reports on the financial statements and reports on internal controls and on compliance with laws and regulations based on an audit of the financial statements that the audit was conducted in accordance with the Consolidated Audit Guide for Audits of DECD Programs.

Sample Auditor's Reports. The example reports contained in this chapter (Examples A - D) are illustrations of auditor's reports on financial statements, combined report on internal controls and compliance, schedule of findings and recommendations, and the auditee's corrective action plan that may be issued in an audit in accordance with this guide. These reports are not meant to be all-inclusive; IPA's should exercise professional judgement in tailoring their reports to the circumstances of individual audits. Guidance can be obtained in the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audits of State and Local Governmental Units, which illustrates sample auditor's reports to be issued in selected situations. It contains examples illustrating the reports required under GAAS, Government Auditing Standards, and the Federal Single Audit Act (OMB Circular A-133). The IPA should refer to Exhibit 4-1 of this audit guide which illustrates the types of reports to be issued depending on the type of audit required.

B. Financial Statements

The audit report shall include the financial statements and supplementary schedules listed in Exhibit 4-2. The financial statements and supplementary schedules required will depend on the type of fund or contract and the status of the projects. If more than one fund and/or contract is involved, applicable financial statements are required for each; however, such statements may be presented on a combined statement by showing each fund and/or contract in a separate single column. In addition, a Schedule of Rehabilitation Program Expenditures, Rental Assistance Program Expenditures, and Congregate Subsidy Program Expenditures by line item must be presented as a supplementary schedule or included in the notes to the financial statements for those housing contracts that are accounted for in a housing administration fund. If a separate fund was established to account for those contracts, a separate Balance Sheet and Statement of Program Cost by line item must be presented as part of the basic financial statements.

The financial statements and supplementary schedules must be presented in the format referenced in Exhibit 4-2 to meet the requirements of this audit guide.

C. Notes to the Financial Statements

In general, information that might affect the conclusions formed by users of the financial statements should be disclosed. Notes to the financial statements should inform the users of matters that may affect their interpretation of them, and may provide additional information that will facilitate their understanding and use of the statements. The Department of Economic and Community Development recommends that the following information be included in the notes to the financial statements:

1. Summary of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

- (a) Scope of Operations - must state all the units administered by the auditee by funding source (State and Federal).
- (b) Basis of Accounting and Financial Reporting - should describe the basis of accounting used by the auditee to account for its funds. A description of the various differences between the basis of accounting used by the auditee and generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) should be included.
- (b) Revolving Fund - should contain a brief description of the revolving fund if used by the auditee for payment of items chargeable to any or all projects of the auditee.

2. Financial Reporting Entity - should include a description of the type of legal entity the organization is formed as and the organization's mission.

3. Deposits with Financial Institutions and Investments - should disclose the amount of auditee deposits that are insured by Federal Depository Insurance or protected by collateral.

- (a) Assistance/Loan Agreement
- (b) Cooperative Agreement
- (c) Architect's Contract
- (d) Construction Contract
- (e) Site

8. Other DECD Financial Assistance Programs (Grant/Loan Contracts) - should include a description of other DECD financial assistance programs such as Housing Rehabilitation (HR), Rental Assistance Program (RAP), Special Act Grants (SA), Manufacturing Assistance Act

(MAA), Urban Act (UA) and Congregate Services Subsidy Programs (HS). The following information should be included in the description for each program:

- (a) Contract Number

13. Subsequent Events - should disclose any events taking place after the Balance Sheet date having a direct and material effect on the financial statements.

The notes to the financial statements should include any other information required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and any other information that the IPA considers necessary to facilitate the interpretation and understanding of the auditee's financial statements and operations.

UNQUALIFIED OPINION ON FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

Independent Auditor's Report

[Addressee]

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the [the Entity with respect to State Programs], as of December 31, 20xx, and for the year then ended, as listed in the table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of the [the Entity's] management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and requirements of the Consolidated Audit Guide for Audits of DECD Program. Those standards and requirements require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in note 1 to the financial statements, these financial statements were prepared in conformity with the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the [the Entity with respect to State Programs], as of December 31, 20xx, and the results of its operations and changes in retained earnings for the year then ended, on the basis of accounting prescribed by DECD.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued a report dated [date of report] on our consideration of [the Entity's with respect to State Programs] internal control over financial reporting and our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in conjunction with this report in considering the results of our audit.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements of [the Entity with respect to State Programs] taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule(s) as listed in the table of contents are presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by DECD and are not a required part of the financial statements. The information in these schedule(s) have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

This report is intended for the information of the Board of Directors/Commissioners, management, and the State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development.

EXAMPLE B

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS [Reportable Instances of Noncompliance and Reportable Conditions Identified]

[Addressee]

We have audited the financial statements of [the Entity with respect to State Programs] as of and for the year ended December 31, 20xx, and have issued our report thereon dated [date of report]. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and requirements of the Consolidated Audit Guide for Audits of DECD Programs.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered the [the Entity's with respect to State Programs] internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a reportable condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements caused by error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses and are described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings, Recommendations and Questioned Costs as items [list related finding reference numbers, for example 05-1 and 05-2].

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the [the Entity's with respect to State Programs] financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards which are described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings, Recommendations and Questioned Costs as items [list related finding reference numbers, for example 05-3].

This report is intended for the information of the Board of Directors/Commissioners, management, and the State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

SCHEDULE OF FINDINGS AND QUESTIONED COSTS

When the IPA identifies a finding, this schedule must include the following information for each finding, where applicable: (a) the size and corresponding dollar value of the population, (b) the size and dollar value of the sample tested, and (c) the size and dollar value of the instances of noncompliance.

In addition, Government Auditing Standards states that to the extent possible, in presenting audit findings such as deficiencies in internal control, auditors should develop the elements of criteria, condition, cause, and effect to assist management or oversight officials of the audited entity in understanding the need for taking corrective action. Following is guidance for reporting on elements of findings.

- Criteria - what the auditee should be doing, e.g., the specific regulation, a prudent management practice, or an internal control procedure.
- Condition - the nature of the deficiencies, e.g., a regulation not being followed, a control procedure not followed or one that is inadequate.
- Cause - why the condition exists, e.g., the auditee was unaware of the regulation or internal control was not a high priority of the auditee.
- Effect - what happened as a result of the condition; this should be quantifiable in all possible instances and described as thoroughly as possible.
- Recommendation - what the auditee should do to correct the condition, normally addresses the cause, e.g., develop procedures to implement regulation or follow established procedures.
- Management's Response – management's response to the finding(s) and how it intends to correct the finding(s).

The IPA should attempt to identify the criteria, condition, cause, and effect to provide sufficient information to DECD officials and to permit timely and proper corrective action. These findings may also serve as a basis for DECD to conduct additional audit work. As part of the finding, the IPA is required to make a recommendation for corrective action to the auditee. The IPA is also required to include the auditee's summary comments on the findings and recommendations in this schedule. The IPA should also include comments on the status of prior internal control structure and compliance findings noted in the prior IPA or DECD audit report. In addition, the auditee is responsible for developing a separate corrective action plan (see Example D) based on the IPA's findings and recommendations and include the plan when submitting the auditor's report. If corrective action is not necessary, a statement by the auditee or IPA describing the reason it is not necessary should accompany the audit report.

CORRECTIVE ACTION PLAN

The following is a recommended format to be followed by auditees for submitting a corrective action plan:

Section I - Internal Control Structure Review

A. Comments on Findings and Recommendations

The auditee should provide a statement of concurrence or non-concurrence with the findings and recommendations. If the auditee does not agree with a finding, the auditee should provide specific information to support its position. If the information is voluminous, an appendix may be attached to the submission.

B. Actions Taken or Planned

The auditee should detail actions taken or planned to correct deficiencies identified in the report. Appropriate documentation should be submitted for actions taken. For planned actions, the auditee should provide projected date for completion of major tasks. Auditee officials responsible for completing the proposed actions should also be identified. If the auditee believes a corrective action is not required, a statement describing the reason should be included.

C. Status of Corrective Actions on Prior Findings

The auditee must comment on all prior findings whether or not corrective actions have been completed. The auditee should provide a report on the status of corrective actions taken on prior findings that remain open. An update should be included on dates for completion of major tasks and responsible officials for any actions not completed. In addition, documentation should be submitted for any actions that the auditee considers completed.

Section II - Compliance Review

A. Comments on Findings and Recommendations

(See Section I.A. above.)

B. Actions Taken or Planned

(See Section I.B. above.)

C. Status of Corrective Actions on Prior Findings

(See Section I.C. above.)

I. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The objective of the Community Housing Development Corporation (“CHDC”) program is to provide funds to eligible developers to undertake the construction or rehabilitation of either owner-occupied or multi-family housing. A qualified eligible developer can receive an interest-free loan from the Department of Economic and Community Development (“DECD”) which can be used in one of two ways, or a combination of both:

- (1) The developer can use the loan to establish a Loan Fund to undertake new construction or rehabilitate existing housing structures for low and moderate income homeowners or private owners or corporations who agree to rent the housing units only to low and moderate income persons or families; or
- (2) The developer can use these funds to make rehabilitation or renovation loans to low and moderate-income homeowners or to the owners of low and moderate income rental housing units.

Funds are also available as seed money which provides a developer with advance funds necessary to develop housing affordable to low and moderate income families. Advances are made solely for expenses which are recoverable in the permanent mortgage.

A qualified non-profit corporation can receive a grant for use in establishing grants, loans, or deferred loans to households for handicapped accessibility modifications. (Section 8-218, CGS)

A qualified non-profit corporation can receive a grant for use in providing grants for adaptability. (Section 8-218, CGS)

Provide a grant-in-aid to Local Initiatives Support Corporation chartered as a state-wide HDC, for capacity building, technical assistance, and predevelopment activities. (Section 8-218, CGS)

II. PROGRAM PROCEDURES

The program contracts for services related to the rehabilitation and construction of housing for low and moderate-income persons or families. Funds are made available to Community Housing Development Corporations (“CHDCs”) which are organized for the purpose of developing low and moderate income housing upon approval by the DECD of the CHDC’s application for funding or to eligible developers as defined in Sec. 8-39, CGS.

III. COMPLIANCE REQUIREMENTS AND SUGGESTED AUDIT PROCEDURES

A. Types of Services Allowed or Disallowed

Compliance Requirements

Services allowed include:

- (1) Any repairs or rehabilitation work performed on an eligible structure, which is necessary to bring a unit up to a decent, safe, and sanitary level, or to make a unit accessible to a handicapped or developmentally disabled person, or which is necessary to bring a major building system which is in danger of failure, into good repair.
- (2) Expenses for additions for handicapped accessibility and adaptability modifications.
- (3) Repairs or rehabilitation necessary to bring ground floor commercial space to a decent, safe, and sanitary condition may be an eligible expense at the discretion of the Commissioner of the Department of Economic and Community Development (“DECD”)
- (4) Local Initiative Support Corporation (LISC) services.

Services disallowed include expenses for redecoration, additions, or refurbishing.

(Section 8-218, CGS)

Suggested Audit Procedures

- (1) Review the Assistance Agreement and Project Financing Plan and Budget to determine the costs allowed under the program.
- (2) Test financial records and reports by examining supporting information to determine whether costs are allowed under the grant award.

B. Eligibility

Compliance Requirements

- (1) Owners of buildings located within an approved target area and which contain at least one unit occupied by a person of low and moderate income.
- (2) Units which are occupied by persons other than low-income persons are not eligible for assistance under the program unless such unit is occupied by a person who is handicapped or developmentally disabled.
- (3) Grants for handicapped access only to eligible income limit households and grants/loans to handicapped tenants must have landlord authorization.
- (4) Eligible developers.

(Section 8-218, CGS)

Suggested Audit Procedures

- (1) Review the procedures used to determine eligibility and evaluate for adequacy.
- (2) Examine related records and determine whether units are occupied by low and moderate-income persons or persons who are handicapped or developmentally disabled, and whether the landlord has approved the tenant application.

I. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

To provide financial assistance in the form of a congregate subsidy grant to assist in the payment of rent and to provide congregate support services which are necessary to enable semi-independent living in a residential setting for frail elderly. These services include one main meal a day, housekeeping services, personal care services to assist in the delivery and enhancement of daily living activities, and a 24 hour emergency service. Personal care services to assist in delivery and enhancement of daily living activities are available to residents based on an individual evaluation and assessment of need. Provided services may be subsidized in whole or in part through DSS or DECD. Based on their financial circumstances, residents may also contribute towards the cost of personal care services.

II. PROGRAM PROCEDURES

Any Housing Authority, nonprofit organization, or private developer which operates a congregate housing facility may apply and contract for a congregate subsidy grant. The grant will provide a rental assistance payments component, a congregate core services component, an expanded cored services component and an assisted living services component. The rental assistance component will assist residents paying in excess of thirty percent of their adjusted gross income toward base rent and utilities. The congregate core services component will offset the costs of congregate services not paid for by the tenants. Tenants will be required to pay an amount toward congregate services costs, based on their net income after allowances, in accordance with a formula approved by the Commissioner of DECD. The expanded core services component will be funded entirely with grant funds for the purpose of hiring a Resident Services Coordinator, and providing wellness/preventive programs along with emergency transportation for residents. I. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

To provide grants up to 100% of ad valorem taxes to municipalities in which state-assisted low to moderate income housing projects are operated by Housing Authorities. In consideration of the State PILOT grant award, municipalities forgo collecting the payments due to them by the project, as evidenced by a Cooperation Agreement signed by both parties during the properties development. These funds, which the Housing Authorities otherwise would have paid to the municipality, may equal up to 12.5% of the shelter rent. The authorities may use the funds preserved by the municipal forbearance, for social services to the occupants, the operating costs or reserves of the property, or the maintenance or improvements of the physical quality of the property. (Section 8-216(b) of the CGS)

II. PROGRAM PROCEDURES

If the percentage of ad valorem tax (PILOT payment) offered by the State is too low, towns can refuse the PILOT payment grant offer. Department of Economic and Community Development
Special Contaminated Property Remediation And Insurance Fund (SCPRIF)
12021-ECD46200-40063-093

A. I. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Special Contaminated Property Remediation and Insurance Fund (SCPRIF) is a loan program designed to help municipalities and businesses address site contamination problems and to assist in the reuse of "brownfield" sites. The Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) and the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) jointly administer the new Special Contaminated Property Remediation and Insurance Fund (SCPRIF). This program was created as a vehicle to redevelop commercial and industrial property that is underutilized due to possible site contamination by providing assistance to quantify remediation costs. The program provides loans to complete environmental site assessments and for the demolition of existing structures necessary to prepare property for reuse.

The objective of the program is to encourage public and private partnerships to jointly study, remediate, and redevelop previously used industrial and commercial properties. The program seeks to "level the playing field" for underutilized properties by clarifying the environmental conditions, preparing a work plan necessary to meet the appropriate environmental standards, and removing existing obstructions to reuse. The completion of these program activities will encourage private sector reuse of such sites by identifying obstacles to redevelopment. This program is being operated in a cooperative manner between DECD and DEP to assure that remediation and development issues are addressed in a coordinated manner. Loans awarded under this program may be forgiven under certain economic conditions.

Action Work Plans, and demolition activities including lead and asbestos abatement removal in "brownfield" areas that are necessary for property redevelopment. Any demolition activities must be subsequent to a Phase III Environmental Site Investigation.

Applications for financial assistance are approved by the SCPRIF Advisory Board, which in turn makes a recommendation for funding to the Commissioner of DECD. DECD acts as a liaison with DEP staff during the review process. The recipient of SCPRIF funds will repay the State upon sale or lease of the property or upon approval of a final remedial action report in accordance with the terms of the program. In the event that the assessment determines that the redevelopment of the site is not feasible due to the cost of remediation, loans made under the program may be forgiven.

H. DECD Assistance

A. INTRODUCTION

No matter the size of your organization, an effective audit can improve management operations and yield significant dollar savings. It can also help avoid wasting your organization's scarce resources on a substandard audit. This guide can help get the most for your money. An audit:

Verifies financial transactions and determines whether funds were expended according to applicable laws, regulations and procedures.

Provides DECD management with timelier reporting by recipients and IPAs of noncompliance with Laws and Regulations.

Provides the DECD and grantee management with objective appraisals of financial accounting systems and administrative controls; and Determines reliability of financial records and reports.

A U.S. General Accounting Office (GAO) report showed that entities with ineffective audit procurement systems stood a 46 percent chance of receiving a substandard audit; that figure dropped to 17 percent for entities that followed systematic audit procurement practices.

This guide is based on guidance developed by the GAO, the National Intergovernmental Audit Forum, the Western Intergovernmental Audit Forum, the Single Audit Information Service and the LSC Audit Guide.

B. PLANNING: AN ESSENTIAL FIRST STEP

Planning to obtain a quality audit requires time and attention. However, the resources spent on planning are likely to be rewarded by a smooth, timely and less expensive audit.

Determining the specific audit requirements. To find out your audit requirements – a sometimes difficult task – your organization may want to seek the assistance of knowledgeable persons. An audit committee composed of people with backgrounds in accounting, auditing, finance or management ideally provides this assistance. Grantees without audit committees may want to seek the assistance of DECD or other DECD recipients.

Identifying the attributes necessary in an auditor. We suggest that the personnel doing the audit have experience with audits of other DECD funded recipients or similar entities. Moreover, they must comply with applicable Government Auditing Standards requirements for peer review and continuing professional education.

Deciding how to evaluate prospective audit firms. Developing a systematic procedure for evaluating firms' qualifications is essential. Although price is important, technical qualifications should be a critical measure in selecting an auditor.

Reviewing legal requirements. Review applicable laws, regulations and grant conditions to ensure that the procurement process and the audit meet legal requirements.

Considering a multiyear agreement. The first year of an audit engagement usually involves significant start-up costs for an auditor because of the time needed to learn about an organization and its internal control structure. After completing this groundwork, the auditor usually can work at less cost in the succeeding years. A multiyear agreement has a dual advantage: it enables an auditor to propose a price that considers the savings to be realized in subsequent years and saves your organization the costs associated with repeating the selection process. However, contracts or engagement letters should also contain an escape clause that would allow, without significant penalty, modification or cancellation made necessary by changes in the law.

Evaluating the auditor rotation option. Some people argue that changing auditors at the end of a multiyear contract infuses the audit process with fresh views and new perspectives. Others contend that these benefits can be achieved through internal rotation of audit staff and that maintaining a long-term, ongoing relationship with a particular auditor is more advantageous. A long-term relationship with a firm, however, will not necessarily enable your organization to seek out and take advantage of lower priced audits. Carefully consider the advantages and disadvantages of auditor rotation before setting a policy.

Establish a work schedule. Develop a schedule that sets dates for achieving certain milestones in the audit process. The only way to ensure the timely preparation and issuance of financial statements and related reports is to develop and follow such a schedule.

All these suggestions – especially creating and using an audit committee – can help a small entity achieve a quality audit. Even the smallest organization can appoint a two or three-person audit committee that understands what is to be audited and how the audit should be done.

C. COMPETITION AND SOLICITATION: COMMUNICATING AUDIT REQUIREMENTS

Full and open competition is basic to funds oversight and responsibility. Encouraging as many qualified audit firms as possible to submit audit proposals increases the likelihood of receiving a quality audit at a fair price. The next step, then, is to express your audit needs to potential bidders. This step is critical because bidders who do not clearly understand exactly what services are wanted might not respond.

Solicitation. There are many ways to solicit bids for audits, but the most reliable method – and the one we suggest – is a written request for proposal, or RFP. RFP's should be clearly written; setting forth all terms, conditions and evaluation criteria and the scope of the work required.

All potential bidders must understand the requirements of the audit and environment of your organization. Using your audit committee's advice when writing an RFP is a good idea. Committee members should have a clear understanding of both the audit function and what your organization requires of the audit.

The RFP must be sufficiently distributed and publicized to ensure open competition. Consider compiling a list of potential auditors from general and professional directories and from experiences with audit firms. The Connecticut Society of CPAs, State Board of Accountancy and other DECD funded recipients are excellent sources of potential auditors.

Connecticut Society of CPAs

(860) 258-4800

State Board of Accountancy
30 Trinity Street
Hartford, CT 06106
(860) 509-6179

It is important to design technical and cost proposal instructions that enable consistent evaluation of proposals using applied evaluation criteria. The provisions listed below should be included in an RFP. These provisions can be adapted depending on the size of your entity.

Administrative Information

Background information on your organization
Schedule of funds received and expended by project or grant and Grantor agency
Description and magnitude of your accounting records
Description of your computer system (if applicable)
Fiscal period to be audited
Term of contract engagement
Availability of prior audit reports and working papers

Time Requirements

Date records would be ready for audit
Deadlines for completing interim phases, such as fieldwork and draft report preparation
Contract award date
Final report due date
Working paper retention requirements
Requirements for making work papers available to DECD and other grantors

Work and Reporting Requirements

Auditing standards to be followed
Extent of assistance your organizations will provide the auditor
Specific scope of audit work to be done
Number and types of reports required
Exit conference requirements
Specific audit guide or program to be followed
Additional audit requirements under DECD Compliance Supplement
Minimum audit requirements under applicable laws, such as the Federal and State Single Audit Acts

Proposal Information

Evaluation criteria against which the proposal will be judged
Your right to reject the proposal

Contractual Information

Recourse in case of poor quality work
Equal employment opportunity clause
Termination of contract provisions
Administrative and/or legal remedies for contract violations

Bidders' Conference. Although your organization will have been as thorough as possible in preparing your RFP, some information that prospective bidders will find useful may be overlooked. One effective way of communicating additional information to bidders is a bidders' conference. At a bidders' conference, additional information is provided and prospective bidders can ask any unanswered questions. Letters and individual conversations could serve the same purposes; however, bringing all bidders together simultaneously to hear the same information is efficient and helps ensure all bidders are treated equally.

Small Entities

Obtaining an extensive list of potential bidders may be difficult for small entities in rural areas. Soliciting lists from the state society of CPAs, other larger DECD funded recipients and from CPAs in your region that have experience with similar entities is often helpful. Furthermore, preparing a detailed RFP for a small engagement may be economically impractical. Abbreviated RFP's, designed for small engagements, can be designed through tailoring to meet individual needs. At a minimum, such RFP's should clearly define the work including the reports and opinions required.

D. TECHNICAL EVALUATION

Methods for evaluating the technical merit of each audit firms' proposal should be developed. These should include the evaluation criteria and their importance in choosing the audit firm best able to do the audit. The following are some critical factors for evaluating audit proposals:

Responsiveness of the proposal as demonstrated by the necessity and adequacy of proposed procedures, reasonableness of time estimates and timeliness of expected completion and appropriateness of assigned staff levels;

Qualifications of staff who will be assigned to the engagement;

Size and location of the firm;

The range of activities performed by the firm;

The firm's participation in training and continuing professional education in auditing organizations and programs receiving state and federal funds;

A description of the firm's quality control procedures;

Results of internal and external quality control reviews of the firm;

Time frames for the fieldwork;

The firm's data processing capabilities;

The amount of assistance the firm expects from your organization;

Whether the firm is licensed to practice in the state; and Assurance that the firm's staff meets the independence standards outlined in Government Auditing Standards.

E. WRITTEN AGREEMENT: DOCUMENTING EXPECTATIONS

The lack of a written agreement between your organization and the audit firm can contribute to substandard audits by public accountants. To foster sound and productive communication and to avoid misunderstandings, both parties should agree in writing on important audit-related matters. Make clear at the start – before bidders spend time assessing the nature of the job and estimating its costs – that your organization expects to sign a formal document as the culmination of the proposal process. Audit firms unwilling to commit to signing such a document are better avoided. Appendix C of this Audit Guide provides a Sample Audit Agreement.

What to Include in a Written Agreement

When using an RFP, the written agreement should incorporate by reference the terms of the RFP and those of the successful bidder's last proposal. The written agreement will then clearly specify the:

- Audit Scope, objective and purpose;
- Deadlines for work to be done;
- Audit Cost;
- Report format;
- Type and timing of support by your organization to the auditor;
- Professional auditing standards to be followed in performing the audit; and
- Reference to the DECD Audit Guide

Furthermore, the agreement should make the following points about the auditor/entity relationship, changes in the kind or amount of work required, and access to and ownership of audit products.

The relationship of the auditing firm to your organization is that of independent contractor.

At any time, your organization may, by written notice, make changes in or additions to work or services within the general scope of the agreement. If such changes are made, an equitable adjustment will be made in the cost of the audit using the rates specified in the agreement.

If the contractor believes that a change in or addition to work is beyond the general scope of the agreement, it must notify your organization in writing within a specified time and before beginning that work. The agreement should state where the final administrative authority rests in deciding disputes.

The work papers prepared by the contracting auditor during the audit are its own property. These documents should be retained for the period designated in the DECD Audit Guide and available to authorized representatives of your organization and DECD upon request. All reports by the contracting auditor to your organization are the exclusive property of your organization and subject to its use and controls, according to applicable laws and regulations.

Small Entities

Without an RFP, many small engagements are documented with an engagement letter. The engagement letter is typically prepared by the CPA and protects the CPA more than the entity being audited. If your organization decides to use an engagement letter as the written agreement, the letter must reference that the audit was performed in accordance with the DECD Audit Guide. Contracts or engagement letters should also contain an escape clause that would allow, without significant penalty, modification or cancellation made necessary by changes in the law.

F. ENGAGEMENT CONTRACT MANAGEMENT: ENSURING A QUALITY AUDIT

Because of the needs and expectations of third-party financial statement users, the audit must meet the requirements of the DECD Audit Guide, State Single Audit Act, and the Federal Single Audit Act (OMB Circular A-133), as applicable. Therefore, prudent management of the audit engagement is crucial. Monitoring the progress of the audit is the most effective way to ensure that your organization receives the type and quality of audit services specified in the written agreement. This is a role that your audit committee can carry out most effectively. The committee can evaluate the audit while it is taking place, addressing and resolving problems before the audit is completed. It can also review audit results and assist in post-audit quality evaluation. Thus, not only does the audit product improve but also the working relationship with the auditor is enhanced.

Monitoring is especially beneficial during the first year of a new auditor's contract and during the audit of a particular unit or segment(s) of your organization that is unique or complex. Furthermore, monitoring is beneficial throughout the term of a multiyear contract: It provides status reports and helps coordinate the auditing firm's activities with the audit's requirements. Monitoring can be accomplished through conferences between the auditor and key auditee staff once the contract is awarded, at the completion of audit fieldwork, and at the conclusion of audit fieldwork. Meeting after the completion of the audit to discuss the draft report can help ensure a clear understanding of the report and its findings. While the responsibility for a quality audit rests ultimately with the auditor, monitoring the work being done as a quality assurance measure is a good idea.

Small Entities

Few small organizations have the resources to thoroughly monitor the work of an auditor. When audit committee members are unavailable within an organization, composing a committee of volunteers outside the organization may be the answer.

G. USE OF SMALL AND MINORITY FIRMS

DECD Contracts and OMB Circular A-133 contain policies and standards concerning procurement of audit services from small and minority firms.

The standards are based on several fundamental principles when using public funds to obtain goods and services, including:

1. All offers of services should be accorded equal treatment. There should be no favoritism granted to any firm and the relationship, to the maximum extent possible, should be "arms-length."
2. To the maximum extent possible, recipients of public funds should use free and open competition to provide the necessary services.

3. The relationship between the parties (auditee and auditor) provides rights and remedies. If either party fails to uphold its responsibilities or is forced to do more than is expected under the contract document, legal remedies are available.

SAMPLE AGREED-UPON PROCEDURES JOB AUDIT REPORT

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT ON APPLYING AGREED-UPON PROCEDURES

To the Board of Directors of {name of entity}
And the State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development

We have performed the procedures enumerated below, which were agreed to by the State of Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) under the Job Creation and Retention provisions of the Financial Assistance Agreement (Agreement) dated {date} and the Job Audit Procedures and Reporting Format as prescribed by the DECD (Appendix F of the DECD Audit Guide). These procedures were performed solely to assist DECD in evaluating the compliance with the terms of the Agreement with (The Company). This agreed-upon procedure engagement was performed in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. The sufficiency of these procedures is solely the responsibility of the specified users of the report. Consequently, we make no representation regarding the sufficiency of the procedures described below either for the purpose for which this report has been requested or for any other purpose.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Provide a brief description of the information outlined in the Business Proposal and Assistance Agreement.

Example: (The Company) operates a manufacturing facility in XYZ, Connecticut. It has entered into an agreement with the State of Connecticut DECD to maintain a five-year average employment of 500 full time employees. The total financial assistance package consisted of a $600,000 Manufactures Assistance Act (MAA) grant and a $400,000 MAA loan. Under the terms of the Agreement, if certain employment levels are not maintained by (The Company), part of the grant/loan proceeds must be repaid in accordance with the formula outlined in Section () of the Agreement. Conversely, in accordance with Article (), Section () of the Agreement, if at least 500 employment positions are maintained by (Date), the principal of the loan shall be deemed to equal zero.

AGREED UPON PROCEDURES

The procedures performed were as follows:

1. We obtained the following documents from DECD and the management of (The Company):
 - Assistance Agreement and Business Proposal between DECD and (The Company).
 - Listing of all employees from the start of the project (beginning date) to the end of the project (end date) (the List).
2. We reviewed the DECD Assistance Agreement for the conditions related to the determination of full-time employment positions.
3. Using the List, we randomly selected (number of employees tested) employees for further testing of the employment data. For each selected employee, we obtained the employment records and examined evidence supporting the existence of the employee (signed W-4 or other documentation), and determined that the employment information contained on the List (date of employment, and termination, assignment to new facility, etc.) was accurate.

{Report all Findings or indicate “We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures”.}

4. For the (number of employees) selected above, we examined documentation to determine that the positions met the requirements under the Agreement to be classified as full-time (usually full-time employees that work an average of 35-40 hours per week for at least 12 consecutive weeks/months prior to the end date specified in the Assistance Agreement).

{Report all Findings or indicate, “We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures”.}

5. Using the Job Evaluation Form provided by the Company, we compared the number of employees listed to the Payroll Register for the periods tested and have reported the total number of full-time and/or part-time employees on Schedule 1. We have made a determination that the requirements as stipulated in the Assistance Agreement regarding employment levels (have or have not) been met. We have calculated the following amount to be repaid to DECD in accordance with the formula outlined in Section () of the Assistance Agreement. See attached Schedule 1.

{Report all Findings or indicate, “We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures”.}

6. The procedures performed for independent contractors were as follows (required only if independent contractors are authorized to be included in job totals):
 - a. Obtain IRS Form 1096 “Annual Summary and Transmittal of US Information Returns” from the Client and determine the total number on IRS Form 1099’s issued by the Client.
 - b. Compare total number of Independent Contractors listed on Job Evaluation Form-Subcontracted Employees with total number of Independent Contractors reported on IRS Form 1096.
 - c. For selected independent contractors, examine supporting documentation (i.e. invoices, statements, time sheets, etc.) to determine if independent contractor worked an average of at least 35-40 hours per week for at least 12 consecutive weeks/months for the Client.

{Report all Findings or indicate, “We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures”.}

7. The procedures performed for subcontractors were as follows (required only if subcontractors are authorized to be included in job totals):
 - a. Obtain subcontractor agreements entered into with Client.
 - b. For subcontracted employees, obtain a listing of the employees working at or providing services to Client during the employment period being tested.
 - c. For each subcontractor, randomly select at least 5 employees and examine supporting documentation (i.e. payroll register, individual earnings card, time sheets, check stubs, invoices, statements, etc.) to determine if subcontracted employee worked an average of at least 35-40 hours per week for at least 12 consecutive weeks/months providing services to Client.

{Report all Findings or indicate, “We found no exceptions as a result of the procedures”.}

8. If necessary, we inquired of Company management as to why the employment level reported was less than the amount to be created and retained.

{Report all Findings}

CONCLUSION

We were not engaged to, and did not, perform an examination, the objective of which would be the expression of an opinion on the accompanying employment records. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. Had we performed additional procedures, other matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you.

This report is intended solely for the use of the State of Connecticut DECD, and should not be used by those who have not agreed to the procedures and taken responsibility for the sufficiency of the procedures for their purposes.

AUDIT PROCEDURES FOR TESTING INDEPENDENT CONTRACTORS AND SUBCONTRACTED EMPLOYEES USED TO DETERMINE TOTAL EMPLOYEES

- All Independent Contractors working for and paid directly by the Client and Subcontractors working for and paid by a company other than the Client (the Company that entered into an Assistance Agreement with the State) that are paid within this state and that work an average of at least 35-40 hours per week for at least 12 consecutive weeks/months (refer to Contract Terms).
- All subcontracted employees must have provided services to the Client.

Audit Procedures for Independent Contractors of Client:

1. Obtain IRS Form 1096 "Annual Summary and Transmittal of US Information Returns" from the Client and determine the total number of IRS Form 1099's issued by Client.
2. Compare total number of Independent Contractors listed on Job Evaluation Form – Subcontracted Employees (DECD Sample Form B-1) with total number of Independent Contractors (IRS Form 1099s) reported on IRS Form 1096.
3. For selected independent contractors, examine supporting documentation (i.e. invoices, statements, time sheets, etc.) to determine if independent contractor worked an average of at least 35-40 hours per week for at least 12 consecutive weeks/months for the Client.

Audit Procedures for Subcontractors hired by Client:

1. Obtain subcontractor agreements entered into with Client pertaining to the Total Number of Subcontracted Employees reported on the Job Evaluation Form – Subcontracted Employees.
2. For subcontracted employees, obtain listing of names and positions for employees working at or providing services to Client. Have Subcontractor Company certify that employees worked in the State of Connecticut or provided majority of services to the Client in the State of Connecticut by filling out the Subcontracted Employee Reporting Form (DECD Sample Form B-2).
3. Compare total number of subcontracted employees reported on Job Evaluation Form – Subcontracted Employees (DECD Sample Form B-1) with the information provided by subcontractor on the Subcontracted Employee Reporting Form (DECD Sample Form B-2) to agree the number of subcontracted employees that are providing services to the Client.
4. For each subcontractor, randomly select at least 5 employees and examine supporting documentation (i.e. payroll register, individual earnings card, time sheets, check stubs, invoices, statements, etc.) to determine if subcontracted employee worked an average of at least 35-40 hours per week for at least 12 consecutive weeks/months providing services to Client.
5. Determine that the total number of subcontracted employees do not exceed the ratio or number of qualified subcontracted employees to qualified client employees outlined in the client's proposal letter dated _____ or Assistance Agreement.
